REMUNERATION POLICY (UNAUDITED)

The Remuneration Policy of Eurizon Capital S.A. (hereinafter also referred as the "Company") is based on the principles applied in the Intesa Sanpaolo Group including:

– alignment with the interests of shareholders, customers and their assets under management, the medium and long term strategies and objectives, under a framework of reference rules aimed at avoiding conflict of interests, and at the proper control of current and future business risks and ensuring an adequate level of liquidity and capitalization;

– consistency with and promotion of sound and effective risk management and discouragement of risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profile, rules or instruments of incorporation of the assets managed;

The Remuneration Policy has been prepared on the basis of the Intesa Sanpaolo Group's remuneration policies and, for what is not in conflict, not governed or more restrictive, in compliance with European and national regulations governing the asset management industry:

– the Law of 12 July 2013 on alternative investment fund managers (transposing the EU Directive 2011/61/EU - the AIFM Directive), and – the Law of 17 December 2010 relating to undertakings for collective investment (transposing the EU Directive 2014/91/UE - the UCITS V Directive).

Governance Structure

All incentives and reward systems for the Company's personnel are subject to the following types of conditions:

- activation conditions for the Group and the Company, consisting of liquidity, capitalisation and financial parameters;
- financing conditions of the mechanism of bonus funding for the Group and the Company, according to a top-down approach such as to take into account the exceeding of certain liquidity, capitalisation and financial parameters, in the first place at the level of the Group and, therefore, of the Company;
- individual access condition, meaning the level of achievement of the individual performance objectives, subject to the verification of the absence of individual compliance breaches. The individual performance objectives include financial as well as non-financial criteria.

The Board of Directors of the Company establishes and reviews annually the remuneration policy of the Company and ensures consistency with the overall policy of the Company in terms of risk-taking, the strategy and long-term, corporate governance structure and internal control objectives. It involves the Conducting Officers, each for their own responsibilities, in the definition and implementation of the Remuneration Policy.

The Company decided to entrust the Independent Directors Committee with the advisory and consulting functions aimed to support the Board of Directors in all activities relating to remuneration, defined in accordance with the principles set out in the ESMA Guidelines on sound remuneration policies (ESMA 232/2013 and 411/2016). The Committee is entirely composed of independent members. External persons can still participate in the meetings of the Committee in relation to specific items.

The internal process related to the governance of remuneration involves the Human Resources, the Risk Management, the Compliance and the Operations & Finance departments, each under the supervision of the respective Conducting Officer.

The Corporate Control Functions verify, for each area of competence (Risk Management, Compliance, Internal Audit), the alignment of the remuneration practices with the approved policies and the applicable regulations.

The ex-ante annual independent internal review of the remuneration system concluded its design to be appropriate.

Compensation Structure

The compensation of personnel includes:

- Fixed component, defined on the basis of the contractual category, the role held and the extent of responsibilities, reflecting the experience and skills required, as well as the quality of the contribution to corporate results;
- Variable component, linked to employee's performance and aligned with the annual results actually achieved and the risks prudentially assumed.

The criteria for the definition of the Company incentive systems, in application of the Intesa Sanpaolo Group's remuneration policy, aimed at ensuring the correlation between remuneration, performance and risks are, among others:

- the measurement of performance from multiple perspectives in order to align the management and employees behaviour to medium and long term strategic drivers, both quantitative (profitability, growth, productivity, cost of risk / sustainability) and qualitative (strategic actions or projects and managerial quality), on different perimeters (Group / Structure / Individual);
- the principle of selectivity, by differentiating the best performances and assigning higher bonuses;
- the principle of financial sustainability, by the definition of a bonus pool correlated to the performance of a Group parameter, currently identified as Income before tax from continuing operations and the use of a solidarity mechanism, according to which the amount of total bonuses paid to the employees of each Business Unit depends in part on the Group's overall performance (reflected in the size of the bonus pool) and in part on the degree of expected contribution to the Group's results;
- the definition of target bonus for roles and professional clusters to be used across all Group, in order to guarantee internal balance and the ongoing benchmarking between roles and/or professional clusters Group target bonuses and external market practices;
- the verification of the so-called individual compliance breaches as a restriction to bonus accrual (disciplinary measures, serious findings received from the Bank's control functions, sanctions by the Supervisory Authorities).

Vesting of the variable remuneration for Risk Takers is governed by specific rules in terms of:

- Deferral mechanisms;
- Payment partly in cash and partly in instruments and retention period for units/shares of funds;
- Ex-post adjustment mechanisms - malus or clawback.

Compensation for 2024

In accordance with the Law as of 17 December 2010 on Undertakings for Collective Investments (as subsequently amended) in conjunction with the guidelines on sound remuneration policies under UCITS published by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA), the Company has identified individuals who have a material impact of the Company's risk profile (Material Risk Takers).

The regulations provide rules in relation to the variable component of the compensation of Risk Takers, indicating that:

- at least 40% of the variable component (60% for significant bonuses) must be subject to deferred payment for a period of 3 years (5 years for significant bonuses);
- a substantial portion (at least 50%) is paid out in units / shares of funds managed by the Company, or equivalent instruments; said percentage is applied, in the same proportion, to both the deferred and upfront portions of the variable component;
- there is a specific holding period (of no less than 2 years for the upfront component, and shorter for the deferred portion) for the vesting of the financial instruments referenced above.

In case the Variable Compensation is lower than EUR 80 000, the Material Risk Takers receive their entire Variable Compensation in cash without any deferral.

The following aggregate compensation has been paid by the Company to its Material Risk Takers and Other Staff in 2024 (in EUR) in relation to all its activities:

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MANAGEMENT COMPANY OF THE FUND

Dear Investors,

Please find below the report of the Directors of the Management Company on the activities of the Fund for the financial year ended on 31 December 2024.

1. Market overview

During the reference period (1 January 2024 – 31 December 2024), financial markets generally exhibited a positive trend. The macroeconomic context revealed a divergence between the United States and the Eurozone. In the U.S., the economic cycle outperformed expectations, and while inflation declined, its trajectory was less consistent; conversely, the Eurozone experienced weaker growth, with inflation showing a more pronounced convergence toward the 2% target. Against this backdrop, the major Central Banks initiated a cycle of interest rate cuts, albeit with variations in timing and approach.

More specifically, in the United States, total inflation ended the first quarter at 3.2%, reflecting a decrease compared to the level recorded at the end of 2023. Core inflation (excluding the more volatile components of food and energy) also declined, reaching 3.8%, slightly below the 4% observed during the final months of 2023. Notably, it was the monthly trends in both total and core inflation that drew significant attention. In fact, monthly price growth ranged between 0.3% and 0.4% throughout the first quarter. Within this context, monetary policy expectations underwent a normalization, with markets gradually aligning to the outlook presented by Central Banks, most notably the Federal Reserve (the “Fed”), which had announced three rate cuts for 2024 in December 2023. At its March meeting, the U.S. Central Bank left interest rates unchanged and reaffirmed its commitment to implementing three rate cuts. This decision came despite marginal resilience in inflationary trends and robust macroeconomic data, particularly in employment dynamics. In the Eurozone, inflation exhibited a more pronounced downward trend, with the overall rate declining to 2.6% and core inflation reaching 3.1%. Despite the more consistent decline in European inflation and a weaker macroeconomic environment compared to the U.S., the European Central Bank (“the “ECB”) made no changes to monetary policy during the quarter, deferring the anticipated start of rate reductions to June. The geopolitical context remained marked by ongoing tensions in Ukraine and the Middle East, yet their impact on financial markets was minimal. Similarly, the elections in Taiwan and Russia did not provoke significant reactions in the financial markets. The Chinese Communist Party congress set a growth target of 5% for 2024; however, the stimulus measures introduced by Beijing were deemed insufficient by investors.

In the second quarter, U.S. inflation data showed signs of moderation compared to the first part of the year. Notably, the data for April and May reflected a return to the downward trend. From this point of view, June proved to be a particularly significant month. On one hand, inflation slowed more than expected in both the total and core components on a monthly basis. On the other hand, the Fed revised its monetary policy projections (the “dot plot”), delaying most of the anticipated rate cuts until 2025 and signalling only a single rate reduction for 2024. In Europe, inflation data continued to follow a more consistent downward trajectory, prompting the ECB to implement its first rate cut of 25 basis points at the June meeting. However, this initial rate reduction did not lead to a radical shift in the monetary policy stance, which remained firmly tied to the performance of macroeconomic data, particularly inflation. In addition to the macroeconomic data, the elections for the renewal of the European Parliament were also closely watched by market participants. However, the outcome had little impact on the markets, as the outgoing majority was largely reconfirmed. Most of the political turmoil occurred in France, where, following strong opposition from various parties, President Macron dissolved the chambers early and called for new elections. This led to increased volatility in French assets, with some spill-over effects on other European countries. However, the volatility gradually subsided as the election results indicated a diminished likelihood of a strong showing by parties with more extreme positions.

The third quarter was marked by the continued consolidation of the downward trend in U.S. inflation, while European inflation accelerated its decline, ending the period below the ECB's reference target. In the U.S., annual inflation dropped to 2.5% in the overall figure, its lowest level since February 2021. Meanwhile, core inflation remained more stable at 3.2%, to its lowest levels since April 2021. In Europe, inflation fell significantly to 1.8% (below the ECB target of 2%), while core inflation reached 2.7% year-on-year. The widespread decline in commodity prices, particularly energy prices, helped ease inflationary pressures, with oil finishing the quarter around $70 per barrel. Alongside the declining inflation, a slight weakening of the U.S. labour market and a deterioration of the overall macroeconomic outlook in Europe prompted Central Banks to reduce interest rates. The ECB introduced the second deposit rate cut of 25 basis points, after the one made in June, bringing it from 3.75% to 3.5%. In the U.S., the Fed initiated monetary easing policy with a first 50 basis point cut, which brought rates to 5%. Among the major Central Banks, the Bank of Japan stood in contrast, announcing a rate hike at the end of July to address rising inflationary pressures. This unexpected rate hike triggered significant volatility in the markets, but the turbulence gradually subsided as global growth began to stabilize. In Europe, France completed the formation of its new executive. However, the weakness in the political landscape, coupled with concerns over budgetary data, was reflected in the French ten-year spread compared to Germany, which rose back to around 80 basis points. In the U.S., the race for the presidency saw President Biden step down, significantly disadvantaged in the polls, in favour of his vice president, Kamala Harris. In China, policy-makers shifted their approach to stimulating the economy. The Chinese Central Bank implemented a significant rate cut, while central authorities announced, though not yet formalised, a fiscal expansion plan aimed at achieving the 5% growth target.

The fourth quarter was marked by the consolidation of a slight macroeconomic divergence between the U.S. and the Eurozone. In the U.S., total inflation closed the quarter at 2.7%, while core inflation stabilised at 3.3%. The average monthly increase was around 0.3%, indicating that, despite an underlying downward inflation trend, monthly price growth remained steady, and progress toward the 2% target slowed somewhat. This was further compounded by a job market normalizing to pre-pandemic levels, along with an overall macroeconomic picture where service-related sectors played a key role in supporting U.S. growth. The strong Republican performance in the November election led investors to quickly price in Trump's economic agenda, which included tax expansion, new tariffs, deregulation, and a focus on immigration control. The Fed's reaction to a stronger-than-expected macro picture resulted in two 25-basis-point rate cuts during the quarter, while forecasts for 2025 cuts were sharply reduced. In contrast, in Europe, inflation ended the quarter around 2.3% for the overall figure, while the core component stood at approximately 2.7%. The macro framework in the Eurozone remained weaker than in the U.S.. This was further compounded by political difficulties in both France and Germany. In France, a new government was formed following the July administration, with the primary goal of passing the new budget law. Meanwhile, in Germany, the political crisis led to the dissolution of parliament, with new elections scheduled for February. In this context, the ECB made two further rate cuts of 25 basis points, expecting to bring inflation back to the 2% target by 2025. European weakness was partly linked to the challenges faced by the Chinese economy. During the quarter, China announced a significant fiscal stimulus plan to support its economy, which has been struggling to meet the expected 5% annual growth target.

Analysing the performance of financial markets in the first half of 2024, within a macroeconomic context where growth showed resilience and inflation returned more slowly than expected toward the Central Banks' targets, government bond yields rose across both the short and long ends of the yield curves. As the reference period continued, however, in response to the strengthening downward trend in inflation and the shift in monetary policy by the major central banks, interest rates began to decline again. This movement was more pronounced at the short end of the yield curves. In the final part of the reference period, however, U.S. rates rose, a trend that also impacted European rates, though to a lesser extent. The markets, in fact, began to price in the potential impact of Trump's victory, anticipating a highly expansive economic agenda that could potentially slow down the rate reduction path pursued by the Fed. These concerns were further amplified by the Fed itself, which, in its final meeting of the year, made an additional rate cut of 25 basis points but indicated it was prepared to slow the pace of rate reductions in 2025. This decision was based on the strength of the recovery, the tightness of the labour market, and, crucially, the deceleration in the decline of inflation.

Overall, the U.S. 2-year interest rate closed the year at 4.24%, remaining at the same level as the previous annual close. Meanwhile, the 10-year rate increased from 3.88% to 4.57%, resulting in a positively sloped yield curve, where long-term rates were higher than short-term rates. In Europe, the German 2-year rate fell from 2.40% to 2.08% whereas the ten-year rate increased from 2.02% to 2.37%. Within the peripheral component, the spread of the 10-year Italian rate compared to the German one decreased from 168 basis points to 115.

Within this scenario, the global bond market showed a positive performance of 0.2% in local currency and 2.8% in EUR (JPM Global index). Concerning individual geographical areas, the Eurozone closed the reference period with the JPM Emu index up 1.8% and the United States (JPM USA index) recorded a gain of 0.7% in local currency and 7.4% in EUR. Emerging markets (JPM EMBI+ index) outperformed developed countries, with a positive change of 7.7% in local currencies and 14.8% in EUR.

Turning to the stock markets, they showed a positive trend, benefiting from good corporate earnings dynamics and a still favourable macroeconomic environment. Additionally, the initiation of rate cuts by Central Banks, coupled with the absence of a significant slowdown in growth dynamics, provided further support. However, the pace of the rate reductions was slower than initially anticipated. During the summer months, there was an increase in volatility, leading to some downward phases; however, these declines were quickly reversed within short time horizons. In October, driven by expectations of a pro-business tax policy and deregulation across various economic sectors in the event of a Trump victory, the U.S. stock market continued its upward trajectory. Meanwhile, European and Asian markets, particularly the Chinese market, were weighed down by concerns over the potential implementation of a new trade tariff policy. In the final part of the reference period, Trump's victory and the Republicans' acquisition of a majority in both the House and Senate provided additional support for U.S. stock indices. Meanwhile, European and emerging markets did not exhibit the same level of bullish sentiment, as they awaited clarity on the real impact of the new American administration's decisions, particularly regarding economic issues such as trade.

The global stock market recorded a gain of 21.0% in local currency (MSCI World index) and of 26.6% in EUR. At the level of individual geographical areas, the U.S. stock market (MSCI USA index) closed 2024 with a positive performance of 24.6% in local currency, and 32.9% when measured in euros. The European markets (MSCI EMU index) displayed a more modest bullish trend compared to the U.S. markets, recording a positive performance of 9.4%. The Emerging Markets region also posted a positive performance, with the overall area (MSCI Emerging Markets index) registering a recovery of 13.1% in local currency and 14.7% in EUR.

In the currency market, the EUR weakened by 6.3% against the U.S. Dollar and -4.6% against the British Pound, while it strengthened by 0.9% against the Swiss Franc and 4.5% against the Japanese Yen. Currency dynamics had a significant impact on the performance of non-Eurozone markets when converted into EUR.

5. Participation and voting rights of the Fund in the shareholders' meetings of the investee companies

Eurizon Capital S.A. has adopted a set of procedures and measures aimed at:

- monitoring corporate events connected with the financial instruments held in managed portfolios, where required by the characteristics of the financial instruments that incorporate rights to be exercised;
- assessing the methods and times for any possible exercise of participating and voting rights, based on a cost-benefit analysis that also considers the objectives and investment policy of each managed portfolio;
- preventing or managing any conflict-of-interest situations that may arise from exercising of voting rights on behalf of managed assets.

In this context, Eurizon Capital S.A. endorses (i) the "Stewardship Code" promoted by the European Fund and Asset Management Association (EFAMA) in order to encourage, at a European level, the development of good corporate governance practices and (ii) the "Italian Stewardship Principles" for the exercise of administrative and voting rights in listed companies and the related Best Practice Recommendations defined by Assogestioni.

Eurizon Capital S.A. takes part, on behalf of managed assets, in the Shareholder meetings of selected companies with shares listed on international markets, considering the usefulness of participating in the interests of the managed assets and the possibility to impact decisions in relation to shares held with voting rights. Based on a cost/benefit analysis that takes into account the investment objectives and policies of the managed products, the Company has adopted preliminary and operating processes that differ for the exercise of voting rights, depending on whether the decision concerns resolutions of shareholders' meetings:

- considered more significant, based on one or more of the following criteria;

- for which Eurizon uses electronic voting (proxy voting).

Based on the above, Eurizon has defined the following criteria to identify meetings of the most significant shareholders:

- the holding of significant amounts of capital;
- the presence of situations in relation to which, in the interests of managed assets, it intends to (i) report on situations of particular interest, in defence of or supporting the interests of minority shareholders; or (ii) support decisions referred to environmental, social and good corporate governance practices;
- the appointment of statutory auditors or board directors of companies listed in Italy based on list voting, representing minority shareholders;
- the presence of extraordinary transactions considered significant for the interest of managed assets, in order to support or oppose a proposed operation.

For more information regarding the voting activity please refer to the "Stewardship Report", the "Report on participation at shareholder meetings of companies with securities under portfolios" and the Proxy Voting Dashboard available at <https://www.eurizoncapital.com/en/sustainability/stewardship-policy>

6. Sustainability Policy

Eurizon Capital S.A. has adopted a Sustainability Policy that describes the financial instrument selection and monitoring methodologies adopted so as to include the sustainability risk analysis and management as part of its decision-making process on investments relating to collective asset management services and portfolio management and to the recommendations made within the investment advisory service ("Investment Process").

Along with these methodologies, the adoption of specific financial instruments selection processes is foreseen, which are appropriately calibrated based on the characteristics and objectives of the individual products managed, that take into account environmental, social and corporate governance (ESG) factors, and principles of Sustainable and Responsible Investments (SRI).

The criteria for selecting and monitoring issuers criteria based on ESG and SRI profiles integrate the traditional financial analysis of risk/return profiles of issuers that the Company takes into account when forming its Investment choices, in order to i) avoid environmental, social and governance conditions cause a significant, actual or potential, significant negative impact on the value of the investments of managed assets and ii) lever the capabilities of issuers to benefit from sustainable growth opportunities.

In accordance with applicable regulations, Eurizon Capital S.A. makes available to its clients/investors and other stakeholders the summary of the Sustainability Policy, and any relevant updates to it, on <https://www.eurizoncapital.com/en/sustainability/sustainability-policy>.

Independent auditor's report

To the Unitholders of Eurizon Fund
28, Boulevard de Kockelscheuer

We have audited the financial statements of Eurizon Fund (the "Fund") and of each of its sub-funds which comprise the statement of net assets, the portfolio, the future contracts, the option contracts, the forward foreign exchange contracts and the swap contracts as at 31 December 2024, and the statement of changes in net assets for the year then ended, and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund and of each of its sub-funds as at 31 December 2024, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (the "Law of 23 July 2016") and with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs") as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" ("CSSF"). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "responsibilities of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report. We are also independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants ("IESBA Code") as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the management company of the Fund (the "Board of Directors") is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Shape the future
with confidence

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors for the financial statements

The Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Fund's and each of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Fund or any of its sub-funds or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the “réviseur d'entreprises agréé” for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of the “réviseur d'entreprises agréé” that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.

Shape the future
with confidence

- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's or any of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé" to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the "réviseur d'entreprises agréé". However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund or any of its sub-funds to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence and communicate to them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.
