Market review

For the period 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Overview

Global equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, fell by 0.4% in US Dollar terms during the reporting period. Share gains, which were underpinned by easing trade tensions and looser monetary from the US Federal Reserve (Fed), helped stock indices hit record highs across the world. The period was, nevertheless, marked by bouts of volatility, particularly due to geopolitical tensions. Markets sold off in January as the US said it would increase tariffs against European countries that opposed its plan to take over Greenland. However, the proposal was dropped and equities rebounded. In March, the escalation of conflict in the Middle East, after the US and Israel repeatedly struck Iran, which retaliated with attacks across the region, caused a sharp rise in energy prices and a slump in global stocks. The US Dollar gained as it benefited from the global geopolitical turmoil in March, while oil prices soared for the same reason, with major global benchmarks breaching US$100 per barrel during the month. Meanwhile, yields on core government bond markets rose as the economic uncertainty at the end of the period prompted investors to reassess their expectations of monetary policy.

Equities

Continental Europe

In Europe, the MSCI Europe Ex UK Index increased by 3.5% in Euro terms, as easier US borrowing conditions and better-than-forecast economic growth propelled the benchmark to a record high. Markets came under sharp pressure in March as soaring oil and gas prices and supply disruptions sparked fears of an energy crisis that could push Europe's economy into a recession. Global trade relations improved overall, although a US plan to take over Greenland – which was subsequently dropped – caused volatility in January. The European Central Bank (ECB), which left its key deposit rate at 2.0%, stepped back in March from its previous cautious optimism about consumer prices and the economy as it raised its inflation forecast for 2026, stoking expectations that it could hike interest rates this year. Eurozone Gross Domestic Product (GDP) expanded by 0.2% over the fourth quarter, down from 0.3% growth over the third quarter. The German economy – Europe's largest – rebounded by 0.3% over the fourth quarter after narrowly avoiding a technical recession in the prior quarter. Eurozone annual inflation slowed from 2.1% in October to a 16-month low of 1.7% in January, before leaping to 2.5% in March, largely because of the conflict in the Middle East. The Euro was unchanged against Sterling during the period, while it weakened modestly against the US Dollar.

UK

In the UK, the FTSE All Share Index strengthened by 9.0% in Sterling terms, as looser monetary policy, thawing global trade tensions and some positive corporate results helped the market hit an all-time high. The global geopolitical uncertainty, however, caused sharp losses in March. The government announced new tax rises in the Autumn Budget, with the measures alleviating some concerns about the UK's fiscal position. The Bank of England (BoE) cut its benchmark rate once, by 25 basis points (bps) to 3.75%, and in March highlighted the threat of accelerating inflation, which increased the chances of tighter monetary policy in the future. Consumer price rises cooled to 3.0% year on year in February from 3.6% in October, staying above the BoE's 2% target. The economy's performance remained lacklustre, with GDP expanding by 0.1% over both the third and fourth quarters of 2025. The unemployment rate reached 5.2% in the fourth quarter and remained there in the three months to the end of January – the highest level since early 2021 during the Covid-19 pandemic – up from 5.1% in the three months to the end of October. Sterling weakened against the US Dollar, with the US currency benefiting from its appeal as a perceived safe-haven investment during March's market turmoil.

US

In the US, the S&P 500 Index declined by 1.8% in US Dollar terms, given foreign exchange fluctuations. Reduced trade hostilities and interest rate cuts from the Fed drove the market to an all-time high, while the end of the US government's longest-ever shutdown in November also cheered investors. Some tariff uncertainty and anxiety about Artificial Intelligence (AI) unsettled investors in February, while fears that the conflict in the Middle East will stymie global economic growth caused significant losses in March. The Fed reduced interest rates to 3.75% after announcing two 25 bps cuts. Annual inflation cooled from 2.7% in November to 2.4% in January and February, while economic growth slowed to an annualised 0.7% in the fourth quarter of 2025 from 4.4% expansion in the previous quarter, which was a 2-year high. Evidence of a softening labour market continued to emerge, with non-farm payrolls data turning negative in three out of six months during the period. The US Dollar strengthened against a basket of major currencies, enjoying its best monthly performance since July amid the geopolitical and economic uncertainty.

Japan

In Japan, the Tokyo Stock Exchange First Section Index (TOPIX) grew by 12.8% in Japanese Yen terms as Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi's landslide victory in February's general election and her pro-growth economic plans powered the benchmark to an all-time high. Sentiment was also buoyed by looser global monetary policy and reduced trade uncertainty, which outweighed fears of an AI bubble and March's slump. The Bank of Japan (BoJ) raised interest rates by 25 bps to a 30-year high of 0.75% in December as inflation remained somewhat elevated. The core consumer price index, which excludes fresh food prices, eased from 3.0% in October to 1.6% in February. The economy's performance was mixed. Fourth-quarter GDP expansion of an annualised 1.3% followed the third-quarter's 2.6% contraction, which stemmed in part from a drop in exports due to higher US tariffs in 2025. The Japanese Yen weakened against the US Dollar, given the BoJ's incremental approach to policy tightening, uncertainty about the government's fiscal position and March's global turmoil.

Asia

The MSCI All Country (AC) Asia Pacific Ex Japan Index advanced 3.0% in US Dollar terms due to positive sentiment towards AI and better global trade relations. A large drop in March, led by the global 'risk-off' mood, reduced the overall increase in stock prices. South Korea was the standout performer as gains in technology stocks drove local benchmark the Korea Composite Stock Price Index (KOSPI) to an all-time high. Taiwanese shares rose very strongly as the benchmark Taiwan Stock Exchange Capitalization Weighted Stock Index (TAIEX) also hit a record peak, helped by AI optimism, improved trade ties with the US and robust economic growth. Chinese stocks were weak, given worries about the economy – GDP growth slowed – and elevated technology share prices. Equities rose in Hong Kong as a slew of big, well-received initial public offerings and solid economic expansion supported sentiment. Australia's market grew in Sterling and US Dollar terms, although higher-than-expected inflation prompted the Reserve Bank of Australia to raise interest rates twice in 2026.

Emerging markets

The MSCI Emerging Markets Index was up by 4.7% in US Dollar terms amid optimism about AI and as investors diversified away from US assets. Many emerging market indices reached record peaks, including Brazil, South Africa and Turkey, although a sharp decline in March, due to the fighting in the Middle East, wiped out all of the MSCI Emerging Markets Index's gains in the first quarter of 2026. In India, local benchmarks the NIFTY 50 and S&P BSE Sensex 30 indices reached record highs late in 2025, although the market dropped over the period amid worries about AI, tariffs, energy prices and some lacklustre corporate results. Brazilian stocks rallied as the US trimmed levies on some imports from the South American country and interest from foreign equity investors increased. South African equities gained, aided by economic optimism, a rate cut and strong commodity pricing earlier in the period. Turkey's market performed positively, as falling inflation prompted the country's central bank to loosen monetary policy.

Fixed income

In fixed income, the JPM Global Government Bond Index returned -1.8% in US Dollar terms. Yields on core government bond markets – including the US, UK and Germany Japan – rose (prices fell, reflecting their inverse relationship) during the period. US Treasuries enjoyed their best month in a year in February, when the benchmark 10-year yield fell to the lowest level since late 2024, although in March, it rose sharply and hit the highest level since mid-2025 as increased inflation forecasts reduced the chances of interest rate cuts. The UK 10-year gilt yield hit an 18-year high in intra-day trading in March due to expectations that the BoE could aggressively tighten monetary policy to tame inflationary pressures caused by high energy prices. The yield on 10-year Japanese government bonds soared given expectations that the BoJ will continue to tighten monetary policy and amid concerns about rising government borrowing. Corporate bonds, as measured by the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Corporate Bond Index, outperformed sovereign issues during the period.

Commodities

In commodity markets, oil prices surged as the conflict in the Middle East caused energy prices to soar. Global oil benchmarks West Texas Intermediate and Brent Crude rose above US$100 per barrel in March, with both finishing the period up by more than 60%. The spot gold price surged to a record peak and was higher overall, as trade and geopolitical uncertainty increased demand for perceived safe-haven investments, although prices dropped in March. The copper price rallied to an all-time high in January spurred by strong buying in China, while fears of a supply shortfall and possible US tariffs also supported prices. However, the metal lost some ground in March amid the rout in global markets.

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Robert Schramm-Fuchs and Marc Scharz

The fund fell 2.37% (Net) based on Class H2 in US Dollar terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 1.52% in the MSCI Europe Ex UK Index, in US Dollar terms.

European equities rose during the reporting period as they benefited from easing trade tensions, looser US borrowing conditions and better-than-forecast economic growth. Nevertheless, there were bouts of volatility, particularly due to geopolitical tensions. The outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East at the end of February triggered a sharp sell-off as oil and natural gas prices soared. This weakened the global economic growth outlook and raised inflation expectations, which prompted investors to price in tighter monetary policy. The ECB left interest rates unchanged, although it raised its inflation outlook in March, which stoked expectations that it could tighten borrowing conditions this year.

Key detractors included home security company Verisure. Following a successful initial public offering in October 2025, Verisure's shares came under pressure in subsequent months, even after the firm reported broadly solid fourth-quarter results. Concerns about a minor accounting change, an unwelcome distraction for a newly listed company, weighed on sentiment. The shares were also caught up in wider falls among perceived AI 'losers'.

The holding in German defence company Rheinmetall underperformed as signs of progress towards a Ukraine/Russia peace deal in late 2025 caused defence stocks to give back earlier gains. The sector later rallied amid reinforced expectations of increased defence spending, before coming under pressure later in the period despite the geopolitical tensions. Other detractors included German design and construction software company Nemetschek, which faced concerns about potential AI disruption.

Not holding SAP – among other perceived AI losers – proved beneficial. SAP was caught up in the uncertainty about the impact of AI on software companies. Shares of the German software firm were further hampered by disappointing financial results. Spanish construction firm ACS was another contributor. The company is undergoing a transformation, with a shift in focus to higher value-added areas of construction, notably within data centre infrastructure where it has established itself as a leader in the US market. The holding in French major oil company TotalEnergies, which we had topped up in February before the hostilities in the Middle East broke out, was beneficial for relative performance given the surge in oil prices.

When positions moved decisively against us, we responded with discipline by reassessing affected holdings, exiting where the investment case had deteriorated and reducing risk where uncertainty had risen. As such, we made several changes. By late February, we had exited most of our 'capital markets' names, such as CVC Capital Partners and flatexDEGIRO. We also sold Verisure, reduced exposure to the consumer discretionary sector and exited Heidelberg Materials, which reflected higher long-term political risk.

We raised the cash position temporarily and redeployed this selectively into areas that offered more attractive risks and rewards, including a reduction of the underweight position in major oil companies and increased exposure to select basic materials holdings. In early March, we further increased exposure to energy through the addition of Shell, and to defence via Thales. We continued to reduce consumer discretionary exposure, exiting CIE Financiere Richemont. From late March, the fund was broadly positioned to participate should geopolitical risks subside, while also offering resilience in a more adverse scenario.

New positions included Sandvik and Nokia. Years of underinvestment in critical metals has met rising demand from AI-driven data centre expansion, supply-chain reshoring and a materials-intensive energy transition. We believe Swedish engineering firm Sandvik is among the best positioned in the sector as these opportunities arise. Finnish technology and telecommunications company Nokia is undergoing a structural transformation from traditional mobile infrastructure towards a new core of AI native optical networking needed for data centres.

At the time of writing, investors welcomed news of a temporary ceasefire between Iran and the US. However, peace talks concluded without a deal and President Donald Trump announced plans for a naval blockade of the Strait of Hormuz. In the near term, news is likely to remain volatile, making the market impact difficult to assess with any degree of accuracy. The duration of the conflict will determine to what extent the generally positive economic signals observed early in the year can reassert themselves or whether a narrative of sustained higher oil prices, a return of inflation and supply-chain disruptions will take over.

European equities offer exposure to powerful global themes, alongside optionality linked to a revival in domestic economic prospects. After several years of subdued growth, this narrative gained traction through 2025, underpinned by a broad reform agenda spanning defence capability rebuilding, competition and industrial policy, grid modernisation, digitisation and financial sector reform aimed at mobilising Europe's substantial pool of excess savings. While progress at the European Union level has been uneven and slower than ideal, tangible steps in some areas suggest to us that the direction of travel remains constructive.

In managing the fund, we continue to emphasise idiosyncratic stock selection, maintaining a balanced exposure across cyclical and more defensive businesses, while selectively positioning for both Europe's global champions and areas offering domestic recovery optionality.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a portfolio of shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in Continental Europe. Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe Ex UK Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index. Depending on prevailing market conditions the fund's portfolio may shift between 'high conviction' (whereby the manager will take significant risk relative to the index) and a more cautious stance. This means the performance of the fund may at times differ significantly from the index, while at other times it may be more closely aligned.

Strategy

The Investment Manager looks to anticipate catalysts for change in companies and industries based on fundamental research and thought leadership, in order to construct a portfolio of large companies complemented by mid-size company opportunities with the potential to enhance the fund's overall returns. Smaller companies are not normally a significant focus of the portfolio.

Emerging Markets Fund

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Matthew Culley and Douglas Turnbull

The fund returned 2.63% (Net), 3.12% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 6.62% in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index and return of 7.68% in the Target Index + 2%, in Euro terms.

Emerging market equities rose in the final three months of 2025, as easing trade tensions and expectations of central bank interest rate cuts boosted investor sentiment. Markets extended those gains through the first two months of 2026, aided by a weaker US Dollar and higher commodity prices. Market volatility increased in March as conflict in the Middle East sent oil prices sharply higher, which raised fears about inflation and a potential slowdown in global economic growth. This led to a broad-based market sell-off, although energy stocks rallied due to higher oil prices. AI was an important theme throughout the reporting period. It benefited companies involved in the development of the infrastructure for the technology while it pressured businesses deemed at risk from AI disruption.

Stock selection in China detracted from relative performance, while stock selection and an overweight position in Brazil contributed.

Full Truck Alliance was a notable detractor from relative performance. Full Truck Alliance has developed China's leading digital freight platform, which uses technology to match trucking capacity with shipping needs. These digital solutions have helped drive efficiencies, reduce transportation costs and lower carbon emissions. However, the shares fell after the company issued a weaker business outlook, which reflected economic headwinds in China. We continued to appreciate the company given its strong competitive positioning and its commitment to returning money to shareholders through dividends and share buybacks.

MakeMyTrip was another laggard, as cyclical Indian stocks sold off in March due to fears about the impact of higher oil prices on economic growth and consumer spending. In recent years, this online travel company has benefited from an acceleration of travel spending by higher-income consumers in India. Despite near-term uncertainty, we continued to like MakeMyTrip given its dominant market position in India's travel business.

Samsung Electronics was a relative contributor. The South Korean electronics manufacturer has reasserted its leadership in the memory semiconductor market, while it has established itself as a qualified supplier of high-bandwidth memory chips to companies at the forefront of AI development. Samsung Electronics reported very strong fourth-quarter results that reflected robust memory demand. We remained positive about high-bandwidth memory chip pricing, given production constraints that limit new supply even as demand from the AI complex continues to rise.

Petrobras was another contributor. Shares in the Brazilian energy company rose in the first quarter of 2026 due to expectations that higher fuel prices may support its earnings outlook. Petrobras has demonstrated resilient operational and financial performance in recent quarters, and it reported increased production and better-than-expected earnings growth for the fourth quarter of 2025. The company has continued to deliver robust free-cash-flow growth and stable dividends.

Equity markets ended the period with a high degree of uncertainty, driven primarily by unfolding geopolitical developments in the Middle East. These events could lead to higher crude oil prices, with major implications for inflation, interest rates, currency movements and economic growth, especially in countries that are highly dependent on energy imports. While we closely monitor the potential impact on the companies held in the fund, our primary focus remains on bottom-up stock selection. We remain on the lookout for businesses with above-average earnings potential that are trading at what we see as attractive valuations.

Investor excitement about innovations in AI and advanced computing has provided a strong tailwind for information technology stocks in Taiwan and South Korea. However, we have been disciplined about trimming positions when valuations become less compelling.

We have maintained a moderate underweight position in China, where we have found a limited number of attractively valued opportunities that meet our criteria. Our focus in China has remained on what we see as attractively valued companies that are able to capitalise on strong secular growth trends, including clean energy, reshoring, healthcare innovation, investments around AI and consumer spending.

We also remain mindful of valuation risks in India, where the fund ended the period with an underweight position. While India has historically commanded a valuation premium within emerging markets, it is less clear that this premium will be justified in the future, particularly as fundamentals improve in other emerging economies. India is highly sensitive to higher energy costs due to its reliance on imported oil, and recent economic growth has been weaker than expected.

Beyond the larger emerging markets, we continue to identify select opportunities in peripheral economies, such as South Africa, Brazil, Mexico and Indonesia, where we have seen instances of structural reform and growth potential tied to an expanding middle class. However, given uncertainty about a potentially prolonged oil price shock, we proceed cautiously with such investments. Moreover, we continue to pay close attention to each company's fundamentals, country risk, and commitment to corporate governance and shareholder value.

Emerging Markets Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term.

Performance target: To outperform the MSCI Emerging Markets Index by 2% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 5 year period.

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in emerging markets. Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in emerging markets. 'Emerging markets' may be countries in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, those included in the World Bank definition of developing (low and lower middle income) economies, or which are, in the Investment Manager's opinion, developing.

The fund may invest in companies of any size, including smaller capitalisation companies, in any industry.

The fund may also invest in other assets including companies outside emerging markets, cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) including total return swaps, with the aim of making investment gains in line with the fund's objective, to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager seeks consistent risk-adjusted returns (an expression of an investment's return through how much risk is involved in producing that return) by looking to identify the most attractive opportunities within countries across various stages of economic and political development. This diverse landscape requires the Investment Manager to utilise an array of perspectives to fully evaluate these opportunities. By combining fundamental company research, market and economic analysis, a keen focus on corporate governance and quantitative input, the portfolio attempts to capture price inefficiencies across the market-cap spectrum. Where the fund invests in sectors dominated by state-owned entities, companies within the sectors may be excluded if they are assessed by the Investment Manager as having poor corporate governance.

Investment Fund Managers

Julian McManus and Christopher O'Malley

The fund returned 1.06% (Net), 1.51% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 1.96% in the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) and a return of 3.22% in the Target Index + 2.5%, in Euro terms.

Global equities rose in the final three months of 2025, as signs of stable economic growth, healthy corporate earnings performance and optimism about looser monetary policy supported investor sentiment. Markets extended those gains through the first two months of 2026, aided by a weaker US Dollar and higher commodity prices. Market volatility increased in March, however, after conflict in the Middle East sent oil prices sharply higher, raising fears about inflation and a potential slowdown of global economic growth. This led to a broad-based market sell-off, although energy stocks rallied due to higher oil prices. AI was an important theme throughout the reporting period. It benefited companies involved in the development of the infrastructure for the technology while it pressured businesses deemed at risk from AI disruption.

Stock selection in the communication services and utilities sectors detracted from relative performance, while stock selection in the industrials and healthcare sectors contributed. From a country perspective, stock selection in the US weighed on relative performance, while an overweight position and stock selection in Taiwan contributed.

Relative performance was hindered by an underweight position in technology company Alphabet, shares of which performed strongly. The Google parent company has experienced increasingly positive returns from its investments in AI, including the impressive performance of its AI platform, Gemini. Search growth has accelerated and its cloud-related backlog has continued to grow. This has resulted in strong revenue growth, primarily driven by its search and YouTube segments. The fund held a smaller position than the substantial weighting in the index and benefited less from the rise in the share price.

Arthur J. Gallagher was a relative detractor, as insurance stocks generally lagged in a market focused on higher-growth investments. Investors also worried about potential AI-driven competition in the financial services space. Arthur J. Gallagher, a global provider of insurance brokerage and risk management, has taken advantage of industry fragmentation to grow its market share and strengthen its competitive position. This has resulted in stable earnings growth and attractive returns on capital.

Fears of AI disruption also pressured the share price performance of Progressive, another relative detractor. In recent years, the insurer has experienced robust policy growth and improved underwriting profitability. However, the shares faced headwinds during the period as investors worried about the sustainability of its policy growth and pricing power.

Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing was a relative contributor. Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing, a dominant global logic chip foundry, has continued to demonstrate robust growth and leadership in the semiconductor industry, especially to meet surging demand for AI technologies. This has resulted in very strong earnings growth. The company issued further robust full-year guidance that reflected expectations of continued strength in its AI-related business. We believed that Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing remained well positioned due to its leading-edge technology and customer relationships with companies such as OpenAI, Google and Meta.

The ongoing development of AI infrastructure was also a tailwind for ASML, another relative contributor. ASML is a dominant global supplier of lithography equipment used in chip production. The company reported strong orders and earnings growth, aided by its solid competitive positioning.

Oil and gas producer Canadian Natural Resources contributed, as the shares rallied late in the period due to expectations that higher fuel prices would underpin a stronger profit growth outlook. The company continued to execute well, with record production supporting better-than-expected earnings growth.

The period ended with heightened uncertainty about the duration and potential economic impact of the conflict in the Middle East. Should there be a near-term resolution, we would expect limited economic fallout and a renewed investor focus on trends favouring information technology and financials stocks. However, a prolonged conflict may result in supply chain disruptions and a sustained period of higher energy prices. These dynamics could reignite inflation, push up interest rates and raise the risk of stagflation or a recession.

Despite these uncertainties, we believe the market sell-off in March was extreme, with investors appearing to price in a worst-case scenario for global growth and inflation. Such periods of heightened market turbulence often create compelling entry points for active investors, and we have taken advantage of volatility to invest in a number of high-quality businesses trading at multiyear valuation lows. We continue to look across a range of markets and economic sectors for instances where we believe the potential for free-cash-flow growth is undervalued by the market. As always, we remain committed to our disciplined investment process, as we seek out companies with durable competitive advantages, solid balance sheets, experienced leadership teams and clear earnings visibility.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over the long term.

Performance target: To outperform the MSCI ACWI by 2.5% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 5 year period.

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a portfolio of shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in any country.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to generate additional capital growth or income for the fund, to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI ACWI, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager seeks to grow capital by investing in companies with strong or improving cash flow. The fund considers both growth criteria (i.e. where company earnings are expected to grow at an above-average rate), and value criteria (i.e. where share prices are expected to increase), to identify the best companies to invest in. The investment process looks to identify meaningful differences between the Investment Manager's analysis and the market's expectations. Taking a disciplined approach to portfolio construction and risk management, the Investment Manager aims to ensure that stock selection is the primary driver of returns.

Investment Fund Managers

Robert Schramm-Fuchs and Marc Scharz

The fund returned 0.19% (Net) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 5.25% in the MSCI Europe Index, in Euro terms.

European equities rose as they benefited from easing trade tensions, looser US borrowing conditions and better-than-forecast economic growth. Nevertheless, there were bouts of volatility, particularly due to geopolitical tensions. The outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East at the end of February triggered a sell-off as oil and natural gas prices soared. This weakened the global economic growth outlook and raised inflation expectations, which prompted investors to price in tighter monetary policies. The ECB left interest rates unchanged throughout the period, although it raised its inflation outlook in March, which stoked expectations that it could tighten borrowing conditions this year.

Key detractors included the holding in home security company Verisure. Following a successful initial public offering in October 2025, Verisure's shares came under pressure in subsequent months, even after the firm reported broadly solid fourth-quarter results. Concerns about a minor accounting change, an unwelcome distraction for a newly listed company, weighed on sentiment. The shares were also caught up in wider falls among perceived AI 'losers'.

The holding in German defence company Rheinmetall underperformed as signs of progress towards a Ukraine/Russia peace deal in late 2025 caused defence stocks to give back earlier gains. The sector later rallied amid reinforced expectations of increased defence spending, before coming under pressure later in the period despite the geopolitical tensions. Other detractors included German design and construction software company Nemetschek, which underperformed due to concerns about potential AI disruption.

Not holding SAP – among other perceived AI losers – proved beneficial. SAP was caught up in the uncertainty about the impact of AI on software companies. Shares of the German software firm were further hampered by disappointing financial results. Spanish construction firm ACS was another contributor. The company is undergoing a transformation, with a shift in focus to higher value-added areas of construction, notably within data centre infrastructure where it has established itself as a leader in the US market. The holding in French major oil company TotalEnergies, which we had topped up in February before the hostilities in the Middle East broke out, was beneficial for relative performance due to the surge in oil prices.

When positions moved decisively against us, we responded with discipline by reassessing affected holdings, exiting where the investment case had deteriorated and reducing risk where uncertainty had risen. As such, we made several changes. By late February, we had exited most of our 'capital markets' names, such as CVC Capital Partners and flatexDEGIRO. We also sold Verisure, reduced exposure to the consumer discretionary sector and exited Heidelberg Materials, which reflected higher long-term political risk.

We raised the cash position temporarily and redeployed this selectively into areas that offered more attractive risks and rewards, including a reduction of the underweight position in major oil companies and increased exposure to select basic materials holdings. In early March, we increased exposure to energy through the addition of Shell, and to defence via Thales. We continued to reduce consumer discretionary exposure, exiting CIE Financiere Richemont. From late March, the fund was broadly positioned to participate should geopolitical risks subside while it also offered resilience in a more adverse scenario.

New positions included Sandvik and Nokia. Years of underinvestment in critical metals has met increased demand from AI-driven data centre expansion, supply-chain reshoring and a materials-intensive energy transition. We believed Swedish engineering firm Sandvik was among the best positioned in the sector as these opportunities have arisen. Finnish technology and telecommunications company Nokia is undergoing a structural transformation from traditional mobile infrastructure towards a new core of AI native optical networking needed for data centres.

At the time of writing, investors welcomed news of a temporary ceasefire between Iran and the US. However, peace talks concluded without a deal and President Donald Trump announced plans for a naval blockade of the Strait of Hormuz. In the near term, news is likely to remain volatile, making the market impact difficult to assess with any degree of accuracy. The duration of the conflict will determine to what extent the generally positive economic signals observed early in the year can reassert themselves or whether a narrative of sustained higher oil prices, a return of inflation and supply-chain disruptions will take over.

European equities offer exposure to powerful global themes, alongside optionality linked to a revival in domestic economic prospects. After several years of subdued growth, this narrative gained traction through 2025, underpinned by a broad reform agenda spanning defence capability rebuilding, competition and industrial policy, grid modernisation, digitisation and financial sector reform aimed at mobilising Europe's substantial pool of excess savings. While progress at the European Union level has been uneven and slower than ideal, tangible steps in some areas suggest to us that the direction of travel remains constructive.

In managing the fund, we continue to emphasise idiosyncratic stock selection, maintaining a balanced exposure across cyclical and more defensive businesses, while selectively positioning for both Europe's global champions and areas offering domestic recovery optionality.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in Europe (including UK). Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index. Depending on prevailing market conditions the fund's portfolio may shift between 'high conviction' (whereby the manager will take significant risk relative to the index) and a more cautious stance. This means the performance of the fund may at times differ significantly from the index, while at other times it may be more closely aligned.

Strategy

The Investment Manager looks to anticipate catalysts for change in companies and industries based on fundamental research and thought leadership, in order to construct a portfolio of large companies complemented by mid-size company opportunities with the potential to enhance the fund's overall returns. Smaller companies are not normally a significant focus of the portfolio.

Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Fund

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Ollie Beckett, Rory Stokes and Julia Scheufler

The fund fell 0.18% (Net) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 0.62% in the MSCI Europe Small Cap Index, in Euro terms.

European small-cap stocks ended the reporting period in positive territory as mostly upbeat sentiment during the first five months offset a sharp downturn in the final month.

Key drivers of the late 2025 optimism included easing global trade tensions, favourable corporate results and lower borrowing costs in the US. The outbreak of hostilities in the Middle East at the end of February then triggered a sharp sell-off as oil and natural gas prices soared. This weakened the global economic growth outlook and raised inflation expectations, which prompted investors to price in tighter monetary policies. The ECB left interest rates unchanged throughout the period, although it raised its inflation outlook in March, which heightened expectations that it could tighten monetary policy this year.

At the stock level, Crest Nicholson detracted the most as the UK housing market faced challenges due to concerns about government tax policies. The spike in energy prices also raised expectations that interest rates could remain on hold for longer or even move higher.

Online travel agent eDreams ODIGEO weighed on relative returns after it downgraded its earnings guidance in November amid a dispute that prevented it from reselling Ryanair flights. In addition, eDreams ODIGEO's plan to expand into the rail industry, which requires investment that could delay the company's cash-flow generation, complicated its outlook. As a result, we exited the position during the period.

Ionos also detracted from relative performance. Investor concern about how AI could impact the company's web-hosting business, and those of other firms, hindered the stock's performance. However, we believed these concerns were exaggerated.

Several companies in the semiconductor industry made favourable contributions to relative performance, including Aixtron, Elmos Semiconductor and SUSS MicroTec. Investors remained confident that AI spending would remain robust, despite increased angst about some technology sector valuations.

IG was another positive contributor to relative returns. The derivatives trading and spread-betting platform posted healthy full-year results while it noted that its 2026 earnings are expected to be at the top end of its guidance range. The firm also increased its share buyback programme.

In terms of activity, the fund purchased speciality chemicals company AlzChem. The German firm manufactures nitrogen-based products for a range of uses, including in NATO ammunition. It is also the only Western manufacturer of creatine supplements, which are taken to build muscle mass.

Germany-based Bechtle, an IT services provider, was another purchase. Although the recent environment has been challenging for Bechtle and other European IT firms, we expected it to improve heading into 2026 due to increased digitisation across many areas of the German economy.

Elsewhere, we added Aalberts, a Dutch industrial technology company that provides mission-critical industrial products and processes. Its systems are used in a wide range of applications, including semiconductor manufacturing. We also sought to benefit from favourable valuations to initiate positions in Tecan, a Swiss life sciences company, and Thule, a Swedish firm that makes transportation equipment.

The fund profitably sold its positions in u-blox, Bilfinger, Montea, VGP and Montana Aerospace. We exited Bonesupport, a Swedish company that develops products to treat bone disorders, as we felt investor expectations had become overly optimistic. The fund sold De'Longhi late in the period as we thought the higher inflation outlook could weigh on consumer sentiment. We also sold Bytes Technology, amid increased scrutiny of IT firms due to the disruption that AI may cause.

The conflict in the Middle East has complicated the outlook as it creates a binary path forward for equity markets. A protracted conflict could deepen the energy supply shock, resulting in accelerating inflation, more restrictive monetary policies and a potential recession. Small-cap stocks would likely remain volatile due to their close ties to economic growth. However, the asset class also remains attractively valued to us on a relative and absolute basis, which could help lessen the impact relative to other segments of the market.

A more upbeat scenario would be an end to hostilities and a normalisation of oil supplies in the near term. Should this transpire, we think European small-cap stocks could be well positioned for a rebound. Favourable valuations make small-cap stocks an attractive way to gain access to the domestically driven European growth potential.

Should the geopolitical headwinds ease, investors would likely refocus on AI disruption. We believe the market reaction to stocks viewed as AI winners and losers has been too simplistic. Instead of speculating from a top-down industry-level perspective, we think it is prudent to identify companies and management teams across sectors that are at the forefront of adapting to the AI world. Thankfully, we have found many opportunities, and the recent top-down dislocation has created some entry points in high-quality companies.

Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of small and mid-cap companies, in any industry, in Europe (including UK). Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region. The fund will invest in small and mid-cap companies with a market capitalisation that generally falls within the bottom 50% of the Pan European market.

The fund may also invest in other assets including companies of any size, in any region, cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe Small Cap Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager focuses on meetings and calls with company management, along with the use of quantitative filters, to identify potential companies for investment. Emphasis is placed on the robustness of a company's business model, an analysis of what drives the business, what its competitive advantage is, and the sustainability of returns. The fund maintains a well-diversified portfolio of smaller companies but will also hold some companies regarded as medium sized. The liquidity of the company (the degree to which shares can be quickly bought or sold in the market at a price reflecting its intrinsic value) is important in determining whether to invest and the size of the holding for the fund.

Absolute Return Fund

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Ben Wallace and Luke Newman

The fund returned 2.10% (Net) based on Class H2 in Sterling terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 1.96% in the Bank of England Base Rate, in Sterling terms.

Global equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, rose 1.7% during the reporting period. Share gains, which were underpinned by easing trade tensions and looser monetary from the Fed, helped stock indices hit record highs across the world. The period was, nevertheless, marked by bouts of volatility, particularly due to geopolitical tensions. The escalation of conflict in the Middle East in March caused a sharp rise in energy prices and a slump in global stocks.

In Europe, easier US borrowing conditions and better-than-forecast economic growth propelled the regional benchmark to a record high. Markets came under sharp pressure in March as soaring oil and gas prices and supply disruptions sparked fears of an energy crisis that could push Europe's economy into a recession.

The fund's performance was driven primarily by the short book, and while the long book detracted overall, several core and tactical positions contributed positively.

Within the long book, the core positions in IG and Serco were notable contributors, which reflected strong operational momentum and supportive corporate actions. Securities trading platform IG benefited from higher trading volumes, while the fund's broader exposure to defence holdings, including Serco and L3Harris Technologies, also contributed, supported by heightened geopolitical uncertainty. We reduced this exposure in the first half of the period by taking some profits.

We were particularly active in the tactical book, both in exploiting dispersion and in capitalising on corporate activity. This included a merger arbitrage opportunity with insurance group Beazley, as well as participation in the initial public offerings of Czech defence business CSG and Sweden-listed home security company Verisure, both of which performed strongly as trading commenced. We subsequently exited both positions.

Other long book contributors included the core positions in Severn Trent and Rolls-Royce. Shares in water utility Severn Trent benefited from its defensive characteristics amid a more uncertain environment. Rolls-Royce contributed after it upgraded its guidance and announced a multi-year share buyback programme. Subsequent share price strength was used to materially reduce the position, which reflected emerging risks to air travel as geopolitical tensions intensified. This sell discipline contributed to the reduction in gross exposure ahead of the market weakness in March.

Persimmon and Bellway were among the notable detractors in the long book as rate-sensitive UK exposure came under pressure, particularly as bond yields rose in March.

In the short book, a position in a UK house builder contributed. The share price fell after the company reported a weaker trading statement and reduced dividend. A number of tactical positions were also helpful in businesses with a clearer path towards disintermediation or margin pressure. An exposure to US-listed major oil companies detracted. Although we narrowed this position in early March, we maintained the exposure based on an assessment that forward-looking risks were increasingly skewed towards pressure on excess profits, including from potential policy intervention, demand moderation as higher energy costs fed through to activity and the risk of a subsequent oil price retracement.

From a positioning perspective, proactive risk management was a key focus throughout the period. In the weeks leading into March, we reduced gross exposure towards the lower end of the guided range, which reflected a combination of deliberate de-risking and disciplined profit taking. This more cautious stance, alongside index hedges and selective single-stock short positions, supported fund resilience during a period of broad market weakness.

We added long exposure to areas that were less directly exposed to the Middle East conflict and resultant energy shock, including distribution specialist Bunzl. In a similar vein, we added to the long position in medical technology group Convatec, where we viewed its share price weakness as increasingly disconnected from the company's underlying fundamentals.

Within the short book, we added exposure to parts of the alternative asset management sector, where concerns about private credit dynamics intensified. In March, our activity centred on areas vulnerable to the adverse implications of the energy shock, including energy-intensive businesses. For example, we increased a short position in a mining equipment business ahead of its earnings announcement, where a subsequent downgrade contributed to performance.

Financial markets have contended with significant volatility in recent months, underscoring what we believe is a structural shift towards a regime where both geopolitical and economic disruption has become the norm. We believe this backdrop increases the appeal of strategies that offer true diversification and differentiated drivers of returns, particularly while equity and bond correlations remain unstable. In our view, portfolio resilience in this environment hinges on adaptability. That is, the ability to shift exposures dynamically, capture opportunities on both sides of the book, and thrive amid volatility and dispersion.

Ultimately, we believe a strategy that targets a consistent real return regardless of market direction, with the potential to generate positive returns in weaker periods, serves an important purpose in navigating the investment landscape.

Absolute Return Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to achieve a positive (absolute) return, regardless of market conditions, over any 12 month period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently your capital is at risk.

Performance target: To outperform the Bank of England Base Rate, after the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in shares and makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments) to take both 'long' and 'short' positions in companies the Investment Manager believes will either rise in value (long positions) or fall in value (short positions) meaning that the fund may benefit from either scenario.

The fund will hold a significant proportion of its assets in cash and money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives and for when the Investment Manager wishes to take a defensive stance. Conversely, the fund may also employ 'leverage' (so that the fund can invest a greater amount than its actual value) when the Investment Manager has greater confidence in the opportunities available.

Typically, at least 60% of the exposure to the long and short positions (in aggregate) will be to companies of any size, in any industry, in the UK. Companies may be incorporated or headquartered in the UK, deriving significant revenue from the UK, or listed on the London Stock Exchange. Up to 40% of the long and short exposure may be to non-UK companies.

The fund may also invest at the Investment Manager's discretion in other Transferable Securities, derivative instruments and collective investment schemes (CIS). The Investment Manager may also use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the Bank of England Base Rate as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). For currency hedged share classes, the central bank rate that corresponds with the relevant share class currency is used as the basis of the performance comparison and for calculating performance fees. The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager blends core long-term and tactical short-term ideas to construct the portfolio. Ideas come from a variety of sources including proprietary research, external research and other Janus Henderson investment teams, with the intention of taking long positions in companies with unexpected earnings growth or value creation potential, and short positions in companies where earnings are priced in or where long-term value is impaired.

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Mark Richardson and Rob Shimell

The fund returned 4.12% (Net), 5.33% (Gross) based on Class H2 in US Dollar terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 1.95% in the Secured Overnight Financing Rate and a return of 3.97% in the Target Index + 4%, in US Dollar terms.

Global equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, fell marginally in US Dollar terms during the reporting period. Easing trade tensions and looser monetary policy from the Fed initially helped stock indices hit record highs across the world. The period was, nevertheless, marked by bouts of volatility, particularly due to geopolitical tensions. The escalation of conflict in the Middle East in March, after the US and Israel struck Iran, which retaliated with attacks across the region, caused a sharp rise in energy prices and a slump in global stocks through March.

In fixed income, yields on core 10-year government bonds rose (prices fell, reflecting their inverse relationship). US Treasuries enjoyed their best month in a year in February, when the benchmark 10-year yield fell to the lowest level since late 2024. However, the US Treasury yield rose sharply in March, hitting the highest level since mid-2025, as increased inflation forecasts reduced the chances of interest rate cuts. The UK 10-year gilt yield hit an 18-year high at the end of the period due to expectations that the BoE could aggressively tighten monetary policy to tame inflationary pressures caused by high energy prices. The yield on 10-year Japanese government bonds also soared, given expectations that the BoJ will continue to tighten borrowing conditions and amid concerns about rising government borrowing.

Commodity prices rose sharply during the period, led by strong increases in oil and precious metals. All subsectors posted gains except soft commodities. Oil prices surged as the conflict in the Middle East disrupted energy supplies. Global oil benchmarks West Texas Intermediate and Brent Crude rose above US$100 per barrel in March, with both finishing the period up by more than 60%. The spot gold price soared to a record peak and was higher overall, as trade and geopolitical uncertainty increased demand for perceived safe-haven investments, although prices dropped sharply in March. The copper price rallied to an all-time high in January, spurred by strong industrial demand, while fears of a supply shortfall and stockpiling ahead of possible US tariffs also supported prices. However, the base metal lost some ground in March amid worries about slowing economic growth and high inventories. In March, aluminium prices reached the highest level in four years following Iranian attacks on two major Mideast Gulf smelters. Soft commodities proved the weakest, with significant falls in cocoa and Arabica coffee prices during the first two months of 2026.

In foreign exchange markets, the US Dollar strengthened against a basket of major currencies. In March, the US Dollar enjoyed its best monthly performance since July 2025 amid the geopolitical and economic uncertainty.

At the asset level, the key contributors to the fund's performance were the overall long positions in precious metals and energy. The key detractors included positioning in government bonds and grains.

At the individual holding level, the key contributors were the long positions in silver, gold and tin futures. The key detractors included the short position in a base metal and the long position in soybean meal.

At the end of the reporting period, the fund had overall net long positions in precious metals, grains, stock indices, government bonds and energy, along with net short positions in soft commodities, base metals and interest rates. Positioning in livestock was effectively flat. The fund's largest long position was in precious metals.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to generate positive (absolute) returns, regardless of market conditions, over any 3 year period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently, your capital is at risk.

Performance Target: To outperform the Secured Overnight Financing Rate by at least 4% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in a global, diversified portfolio of derivatives (complex financial instruments), including index futures, interest rate futures, short-term interest rate futures, equity futures, bond futures, currency futures, swaps (such as index credit default swaps, interest rate swaps and total return swaps), contracts for difference, options and forwards.

The use of derivatives is extensive. Exchange traded futures and total return swaps are core to the investment strategy and used on a predominant basis. Other derivatives may be used on an ancillary basis and as market conditions dictate. The fund may also gain exposure to fixed income (debt) instruments such as investment grade government bonds and investment grade or high yield corporate credit indices accessed through derivatives. There is no limit on the debt securities or government securities rated below investment grade, but any such exposure is expected to be small.

The fund may also gain indirect exposure to commodities using eligible Transferable Securities (such as structured notes) and/or derivatives whose underlying assets consist of commodity indices. Allocations across asset classes will be made at the Investment Manager's discretion and the fund need not be invested in all asset classes at any one time. It follows an unconstrained investment approach, with no regional or sector constraints. The fund will hold a substantial proportion of its assets in cash, bank deposits and money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives or for asset allocation purposes.

The fund is actively managed and makes reference to the Secured Overnight Financing Rate, as this forms the basis of the fund's Performance Target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager employs a systematic (rules based) trend following strategy, which aims to capture trends across a diverse range of assets through a combination of synthetic long and synthetic short investment positions to achieve positive returns with low correlation to traditional assets, as well as attempting to preserve capital and manage risk. The strategy is designed to take long positions in positively trending assets and short positions in negatively trending assets by using a crossover trend signalling model, which captures these trends and turning points in markets. All investment decisions, whilst informed by the signalling model, are assessed and executed by the Investment Manager who actively determines portfolio positioning.

Global Multi-Strategy Fund

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

David Elms and Carlo Castronovo

The fund returned 1.65% (Net), 2.24% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the period under review, compared with a return of 0.98% in the Euro Short Term Rate (€STR) and a return of 4.44% in the Target Index + 7%, in Euro terms.

The Risk Transfer strategy added the most value during the reporting period. Most of the other strategies performed positively, although the Fixed Income, Currency and Commodity Relative Value (FICC RV) and Equity Market Neutral strategies detracted.

The Risk Transfer strategy's strong performance was driven by equity repo positioning. Towards the end of 2025, a combination of reduced pressure on bank balance sheets, opportunistic investors exploiting the attractive repo carry profile and expectations of aggressive banking deregulation resulted in a lower cost of equity financing. In the first quarter of 2026, the strategy also made a positive contribution from the S&P 500 Index reverse dispersion trade, as implied index correlation moved markedly higher due to the conflict in the Middle East.

The Event Driven strategy's positive performance was led by both the merger and acquisition (M&A) and capital structure sub-strategies, while it was encouraging that M&A volumes continued to improve from their Covid-19 pandemic lows. The equity sub-strategy within the Price Pressure strategy also benefited from increased activity levels, although the fixed income sub-strategy partially offset this. In the Convertible Arbitrage strategy, some idiosyncratic drivers and credit hedges benefited returns.

The FICC RV strategy detracted given weakness in the commodity alpha sub-strategy during the onset of the Iran/US conflict. The Equity Market Neutral strategy weighed on returns, predominantly through a long cyclical exposure to the UK market.

Amid this uncertain geopolitical, economic and market environment, the key themes underpinning improved activity in the investment strategies remained fundamentally unchanged. Equity price pressure activity remained robust as initial public offerings, secondary offerings and block trades continued to come to market, and convertible bond issuance broadened to include Europe. Unsurprisingly, M&A spreads widened a little over the end of the period, with takeover activity continuing. This gives us confidence that the positive momentum will continue.

We also believe the opportunity set is compelling within the Equity Market Neutral strategy, as share price overreaction to either the threat from artificial intelligence or the impact of the conflict in the Middle East is captured by our value range process. Importantly, and providing balance amid this uncertain environment, hedging strategies, such as reverse dispersion within the Risk Transfer strategy and the systematic long volatility sub-strategy within the Protection strategy, delivered in line with expectations. Meanwhile, the trend following sub-strategy navigates this oscillating market, ready to pick up the path of any longer-term direction.

Global Multi-Strategy Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a positive (absolute) return, regardless of market conditions, over any 12 month period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any other time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently your capital is at risk.

Performance target: To outperform the €STR by 7% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in a global portfolio of assets including shares of companies, investment grade and non-investment grade bonds issued by governments and companies (including convertible bonds, contingent convertible bonds (CoCos) and distressed securities), currencies, and makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments), including total return swaps, to take both 'long' and 'short' positions in companies and bonds that the Investment Manager believes will either rise in value (long positions) or fall in value (short positions) meaning that the fund may benefit from either scenario.

The fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in CoCos. The fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in special purpose acquisition companies (SPACs). The fund will hold a substantial proportion of its assets in cash and money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives or for asset allocation purposes. The fund may also take long or short exposures to other asset classes such as commodities and may hold other funds (such as CIS and exchange traded funds). Allocations across asset classes will be made at the Investment Manager's discretion and the fund need not be invested in all asset classes at any one time. It follows an unconstrained investment approach, with no regional or sector constraints.

The fund is actively managed and makes reference to the €STR, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). For currency hedged share classes, the rate that corresponds with the relevant share class currency is used as the basis of the performance comparison and for calculating performance fees. The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager adopts a multi-strategy approach, utilising a diverse range of investment styles, techniques, assets, company sizes, time horizons and markets with the aim of providing a positive return. Long positions may be held through a combination of direct investment and/or derivative instruments, whilst the short positions are achieved entirely through derivative instruments. The use of derivatives is extensive and forms an important part of the investment strategy.

Investment report for the period from 17 March 2026 to 31 March 2026

Investment Fund Managers

Daniel Sullivan, Darko Kuzmanovic, Mark Richardson, Tal Lomnitzer and Robert Shimell

The fund returned 0.41% (Net) based on Class H2 in US Dollars over the period under review, compared with a return of 1.28% in the Bloomberg Commodity Index, in US Dollar terms.

Global equities fell over March as the US/Israel conflict with Iran escalated. Brent crude oil prices surged to over $113 per barrel by late in the month. The energy price shock rippled across the global economy, boosting inflation expectations, squeezing consumers and prompting emergency interventions from governments.

The fund seeks to deliver attractive long-term returns with diversification and inflation protection characteristics and is designed to complement traditional equity and bond allocations.

The fund was launched on 17 March 2026. Trading activity over the period from launch to 31 March 2026 will have been in line with activity needed to build the portfolio.

In our view, demand for commodities across our investment universe will benefit from several long-term favourable trends. The rapid growth in electrification and the need to replace and expand infrastructure will drive faster growth in metals consumption. In the developing world, we think that population growth and the continued increase in living standards will raise demand for metals, energy and food.

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a total return (a combination of capital growth and income) over the long term.

Performance target: To outperform the Bloomberg Commodity Index Total Return, after the deduction of charges, over any 5 year period.

The fund will invest its assets in a combination of financial derivative instruments and equity or equity-related instruments to gain exposure to global real assets markets such as commodities and natural resources, including up to 30% of its net assets in emerging markets. Equity or equity-related instruments will typically consist of commodity-related/global natural resource companies, their associated businesses, companies that provide services or have exposure to such businesses in the following sectors: precious metals mining, industrial metals mining, livestock, agriculture, energy, and the global commodities supply chain, such as equipment makers, processors, refiners, storage, transportation, utilities.

Equities may include China A-Shares, directly through the Stock Connect Programs and other eligible exchanges or indirectly through derivative instruments. Exposure to China A-Shares will not be more than 10% of the fund's net asset value.

The fund makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments) to gain exposure to, or take positions in, global commodities markets without investing directly or taking delivery of physical commodities, including but not limited to, swaps (including total return swaps), options, futures (including index futures), forwards, contracts for difference (CFDs), options on futures and/or derivatives whose underlying assets consist of commodity indices. Exchange traded futures and total return swaps are core to the fund's investment strategy and used on a predominant basis.

The fund may also get indirect exposure to commodities through other eligible Transferable Securities such as structured notes, exchange-traded commodity instruments (ETCs), exchange-traded funds (ETFs).

The fund may also invest in other assets including but not limited to cash, cash equivalents and/or money market instruments.

The fund is actively managed and makes reference to the Bloomberg Commodity Index Total Return, as this forms the basis of the fund's Performance Target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager intends to accomplish its objective through investing in a combination of synthetic long, synthetic short derivatives and long-only equity investment positions to achieve returns.

For the derivative portion of the portfolio, the Investment Manager aims to systematically capture trends across global commodities markets, taking long positions in positively trending commodities and short positions in negatively trending commodities. For the equity portion of the portfolio, the Investment Manager seeks to invest in commodity-related/ global natural resource companies operating in precious metals mining, industrial metals mining, livestock, agriculture and energy sectors that are listed on regulated markets worldwide.

Equity Sub-funds

The Equity sub-funds aim to provide capital growth and income over the long term, with the exception of the Global Select Fund which aims to provide capital growth only. Each Equity sub-fund listed above will invest at least two-thirds of its net assets in equities or equity-related instruments of companies of any size, in any industry, in specific countries. Equity-related instruments may include depository receipts.

On an ancillary basis, and for defensive purposes, the Equity sub-funds may invest in investment grade fixed income instruments, (such as convertible bonds, corporate bonds and government bonds and their associated derivative instruments), money market instruments and may hold cash or treasury bills pending reinvestment.

Each Equity sub-fund may use options, futures and other derivative instruments.

Alternate Solutions Sub-funds

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds may invest extensively in derivatives providing both long and synthetic short positions (short positions through the use of derivatives). As a result, as well as holding assets that may rise or fall with market values, an Alternate Solutions sub-fund may also hold positions that may rise as the market value falls and fall as the market value rises. However, if the value of the underlying security increases, it will have a negative effect on the sub-fund's value. In a rising market, leverage can enhance returns to investors but if the market falls, losses may be greater.

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds may employ leverage as part of their investment strategy when using derivatives. Derivatives may contain a leverage component and consequently any adverse changes in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index can result in a loss greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself.

The Absolute Return Fund may use options, futures and swaps (excluding total return swaps) as well as other types of derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes. The Global Multi-Strategy Fund may use options, futures, forwards and swaps (including total return swaps) as well as other types of derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes. The Dynamic Trend Fund and JREAL may use futures and swaps (including index credit default swaps, interest rate swaps and total return swaps) as well as other types of derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes.

The Investment Manager may use one or more separate counterparties to undertake derivative transactions. As with all counterparty agreements, there is a risk to each party of a contract that the counterparty will not meet its contractual obligations. The Investment Manager assesses the creditworthiness of counterparties as part of the risk management process.

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds may use forward foreign exchange transactions, to hedge, as far as is reasonably practicable, the currency exposure of the underlying assets as against the base currency of the relevant sub-fund. However, this will not eliminate a sub-fund's currency risk.

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds aim to achieve positive returns through investments in equity securities and their derivatives but a substantial proportion of the assets of the sub-funds may at any time consist of cash, near cash, deposits and/or money market instruments.

Cross sub-fund investments

As at 31 March 2026, there were no cross sub-fund investments.

2. Presentation of financial statements

The accompanying financial statements present the financial position including the assets and liabilities of the Company and each sub-fund in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements. They are prepared in the designated currency of each sub-fund as stated in the prospectus. The combined statements of the Company are prepared in Euros.

The financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis.

3. Significant accounting policies

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Company:

Valuation of investment securities

The investments within the portfolio of each sub-fund, listed securities and securities dealt on any stock exchange will be valued based on the last traded price on the stock exchange at the Net Asset Value (NAV) calculation date. The stock exchange is normally the principal market for such assets. The value of assets dealt on any other regulated market is based on the last available price at 23:59 Luxembourg time, except the Emerging Markets Fund which is based on the price at 08:00 Luxembourg time on the last valuation day of the accounting period 31 March 2026 and in accordance with the rules set out in the prospectus. For the purposes of the financial statements, the investments have been valued on the relevant market or traded price as at 31 March 2026.

The exchange rates used to value the investments of each sub-fund are as at the valuation point on or after the dealing cut off on the dealing day concerned.

All other assets, including restricted and not readily marketable securities, will be valued in such manner as the Directors consider appropriate to reflect their fair value. The Company reserves the right to utilise fair value techniques where the underlying markets are closed for trading at the sub-fund's valuation point and where the latest available market prices may not accurately represent the fair value of the sub-fund's holdings due to prevailing market conditions.

Units or shares of CIS are valued at their last determined and available NAV or, if such price is not representative of the fair market value of such assets, then the price as determined by the Directors on a fair and equitable basis. Units or shares of listed closed-ended CIS are valued at their last available stock market value.

In the case of short term instruments, the value of the instrument based on the net acquisition cost, is gradually adjusted to the par value price thereof. In the event of material changes in market conditions, the valuation basis is adjusted to the new market yields.

As a result of time variations in certain markets the prices applied to some investments do not necessarily reflect the closing market prices for the same calendar day as the relevant dealing day.

Any difference arising between the cost of securities held at the reporting date and their market value at that date is recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Net Assets.

Realised gains or losses resulting from investments are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets.

Private placement investments

A private placement is a private alternative to issuing a publicly offered security as a means for raising capital. In a private placement the sale of securities is made directly by the issuer to a select number of investors without public offering through an investment bank.

Typically, when the sub-fund invests through a private placement, the sub-fund makes a commitment to invest a specified amount of capital in the investee private company in a series of tranches. The capital commitment for the initial and any future closings are triggered following the completion of defined conditions or events.

The sub-fund recognises investment purchases in the financial statements for tranches that completed or became binding transactions prior to the end of the financial reporting period. These are then included in the period end investment portfolio as an investment holding.

Future tranches that have not completed before the period end and are dependent on future events are unfunded commitments and are not recognised in the financial statements. There were no unfunded commitments at the current period end.

Special purpose acquisition companies

The sub-funds may invest in stocks, warrants, and other securities of SPACs or similar entities that pool funds to seek potential acquisition opportunities. Unless and until an acquisition is completed, a SPAC typically invests its assets (less a portion retained to cover expenses) in US Government securities, money market fund securities, and cash. If an acquisition that meets the requirements for the SPAC is not completed within a pre-established period of time (typically two years), the invested funds are returned to the SPAC's shareholders. Because SPACs and similar entities are in essence blank check companies without an operating history or ongoing business other than seeking acquisitions, the value of a SPAC's securities is particularly dependent on the ability of the SPAC's management to timely identify and complete a profitable acquisition. Some SPACs may pursue acquisitions only within certain industries or regions, which may increase the volatility of their prices. To the extent the SPAC is invested in cash or similar securities while awaiting an acquisition opportunity, a sub-fund's ability to meet its investment objective may be negatively impacted. In addition, some SPACs may be traded in the over-the-counter (OTC) market and may be considered illiquid and/or be subject to restrictions on resale.

Forward foreign exchange contracts

Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate applicable at the Statement of Net Assets date for the period until maturity. Gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets. Open forward foreign exchange contracts are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Unrealised gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Net Assets.

Forward foreign currency contracts on hedged share classes

Open forward currency contracts on hedged share classes are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value. The net gains/(losses) on forward currency contracts on hedged share classes are apportioned between hedged income on forward currency contracts in the revenue account and forward currency contracts on hedged share classes in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets, reflecting the income and capital elements of the hedged share classes.

Unrealised gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts on hedged share classes are recognised in the Statement of Net Assets.

Financial futures contracts

Financial futures contracts are valued at the exchange quoted price at the valuation point at the Statement of Net Assets date of 31 March 2026. Initial margin deposits are made in cash upon entering into financial futures contracts. During the period when the financial futures contract is open, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains and losses in the Statement of Net Assets by marking to market on a daily basis to reflect the market value of the contract at the end of each day's trading. Variation margin payments are received or made, depending upon whether unrealised gains or losses are incurred. Variation margin payments are recorded in the futures margin account in the Statement of Net Assets. When the contract is closed, the sub-fund records a realised gain or loss in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets equal to the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the opening transaction.

Open financial futures contracts are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Contracts for difference

Changes in the value of contracts for difference are recognised as unrealised gains or losses in the Statement of Net Assets by 'marking-to-market' the value at the Balance sheet date, using prices supplied by independent pricing services that are based on the closing prices of the underlying securities on the recognised exchanges. When a contract is closed, the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the original transaction is recorded as a realised gain or loss in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Change in Net Assets.

Open contracts for difference are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Options

When a sub-fund purchases an option, it pays a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as an investment. When a sub-fund sells an option, it receives a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as a liability. The investment or liability is adjusted daily to reflect the current market value of the option. If an option expires unexercised, the sub-fund realises a gain or loss to the extent of the premium received or paid.

Swap contracts

Each Alternate Solutions sub-fund may invest in swaps, with the exception of total return swaps which are only invested in by the Global Multi-Strategy Fund, Dynamic Trend Fund and JREAL. Gains or losses resulting from swap contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets. The premiums received resulting from credit default swaps are recognised under Derivative income/expense in the Statement of Operations. Swaps are OTC investments valued at fair market value as determined in good faith pursuant to procedures established by the Management Company and ratified by the Directors.

Realised gains & losses on sale of investments

The computation of realised gains and losses on sales of investments is made on the basis of average cost.

Income

Distributions from CIS and dividends receivable from quoted equity and non equity shares are credited to revenue, when the security is quoted ex-dividend. Dividends on unquoted stocks are credited to revenue when the dividend is announced.

Bank interest and margin interest earned on derivative positions are recognised on an accruals basis. Positive margin interest is disclosed under the caption 'Derivative income' and any negative margin interest is disclosed under 'Derivative expense' in the Statement of Operations.

Bond interest and interest from certificates of deposit are accrued on a daily basis.

Long positions held on contracts for difference are subject to financing costs. Interest is calculated and charged on a daily basis on the contract value. Similarly if short positions are held, interest will be paid or received and recorded as 'Interest received/paid on contracts for difference' within the Statement of Operations, depending on its nature and may be further influenced by the monetary policy adopted in each jurisdiction.

Special dividends are recognised as either revenue or capital depending on the nature and circumstances of the special dividend declared.

Dividend, Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) and interest income is disclosed net of withholding tax where applicable.

Dividend charges or credits are used to ensure that the contracts for difference mirror the value of the underlying stock when a dividend is announced. If a long position is held, a payment will be received on the ex-dividend date and is reflected within 'Derivative income' in the Statement of Operations. If a short position is held, a charge is deducted on ex-dividend date and is reflected within 'Derivative expenses' in the Statement of Operations.

Where the sub-fund invests into CIS, management fee rebates may be received from Sub-Investment Managers and are recognised when the entitlement arises, as either income or capital in accordance with the treatment of the management fee charged on the underlying CIS. Capital management fee rebates are reflected in the Statement of Operations under 'Net realised gain on investment securities' and income management fee rebates under 'Other income'. Any capital or income management fee rebates receivable are reflected in the Statement of net assets under 'Other assets'.

Revenue derived from the realised and unrealised gains/losses on hedged class forward currency contracts is allocated to both the capital and revenue of the share class based upon the prior day capital/revenue split.

Securities lending

The Company has entered into a securities lending programme with J.P. Morgan SE acting as the Securities Lending Agent for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and in order to generate additional revenue. As part of this agreement the sub-funds can reinvest collateral and enter into reverse repurchase agreements.

The Securities Lending Agent shall ensure that sufficient value and quality of collateral is received before or simultaneously with the movement of loaned collateral. This will then be held throughout the duration of the loan transaction and only returned once the lent asset has been received or returned back to the relevant sub-fund. The Securities Lending Agent will also monitor and maintain all operational aspects of the assets while they are on loan.

Securities lending revenue is accounted for in the Statement of Operations within 'Other income'.

Designated currencies

As permitted by Luxembourg Law, the accounts and records of the Company are maintained in Euros, with the exception of the Emerging Markets Fund, the Global Select Fund, the Dynamic Trend Fund and JREAL which are maintained in US Dollars, and the Absolute Return Fund which is maintained in Sterling.

Transactions carried out in any other currency other than Euros, which is the designated currency of the Company, are translated at the exchange rates ruling at the transaction date. Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rates ruling at the Statement of Net Assets date.

When the designated currency of a sub-fund is not Euros, the difference between the opening net assets converted at exchange rates ruling at the beginning of the period, and closing net assets converted at exchange rates ruling at the end of the financial accounting period are disclosed in the Combined Statement of Change in Net Assets as 'Exchange rate effect on opening net assets'.

Hedged share classes

Any gains or losses that are incurred as a result of the hedging transactions will accrue to the relevant share class only with apportionment reflecting the income and capital elements of the hedge share classes.

The value of the share class to be hedged will be made up of both capital and income elements and the Investment Manager intends to hedge between 95-105% of the value of each hedged share class. Adjustments to any hedge to keep within this target range will only be made when the required adjustment is material. As such the hedged class shares will not be completely protected from all currency fluctuations.

4. Swing pricing adjustment

The Company operates a swing pricing policy, the threshold of which is determined by the Directors. The maximum swing factor applied during the period was a swing of 37 bps applied to the Global Multi-Strategy Fund on 13 October 2025.

The Directors have implemented a swing pricing policy to protect existing shareholders from the dilution effects they may suffer as a result of dealing activity by other Investors in a particular sub-fund. The swing pricing policy gives the Directors the power to apply a swing price adjustment to the NAV per share to cover dealing costs and to preserve the value of the underlying assets of a particular sub-fund.

The sub-funds operate a partial swing pricing mechanism, where the NAV per share will only swing when a predetermined threshold (the swing threshold) is exceeded at each dealing day. The swing threshold level is approved by the Directors at their discretion to ensure that those flows that would represent a significant amount of dilution in a particular sub-fund are captured. The Directors may decide to adjust the swing pricing mechanism in exceptional circumstances to protect the interests of remaining shareholders.

If the net dealing on any dealing day is greater than the swing threshold, the NAV per share will be adjusted up or down dependent on aggregate net transactions on any given dealing day. It will increase the NAV per share when there are net inflows into the sub-fund and decrease the NAV per share when there are net outflows from the sub-fund. The same swing price adjustment will be applied to all share classes within the relevant sub-fund, therefore all transacting investors in the relevant sub-fund, whether subscribing or redeeming, will be affected by the swing price adjustment. It is not possible to accurately predict whether a swing price adjustment will occur at any future point in time and consequently how frequently it will need to be made.

The Directors may also make a discretionary dilution adjustment if the threshold is not met if, in their opinion, it is in the interest of existing shareholders to do so.

During the period under review, the swing pricing mechanism has been applied for all sub-funds.

On 31 March 2026, the last working day of the period under review, none of the sub-funds adjusted their NAV per share.

* The performance fees are disclosed in accordance with guidelines issued by the European Securities and Markets Authority.

The performance fee for the relevant share classes of each sub-fund, as set out in the prospectus, will be 20% (with the exception of the Dynamic Trend Fund and JREAL where the performance fee rate is 10%) of the outperformance of the share class relative to the hurdle rate, subject to the high-water mark.

The hurdle rate is a rate of return that the share class must achieve before it can charge a performance fee. It may be a set percentage or it may be referenced to a financial rate or index.

The high-water mark means the initial launch price of the share class for the first crystallisation period or, in subsequent crystallisation periods, the NAV at the end of the last crystallisation period where crystallisation occurs and a performance fee is paid.

The high-water mark is adjusted for any distribution paid. If the sub-funds underperform in relation to either the hurdle rate or the high-water mark, no performance fee is paid.

For all base currency and unhedged share classes, the performance fee will be calculated with reference to the returns of the NAV and the hurdle NAV in the base currency of the relevant sub-fund.

Unhedged share classes may be subject to exchange rate movements which may lead to differences in performance between the relevant unhedged share class and the relevant base currency share class. In certain circumstances, the relevant unhedged share class may incur a performance fee even if the relevant unhedged share class did not receive a positive return.

For hedged share classes, the performance fee will be calculated with reference to the return of the NAV in the relevant share class currency and the return of the hurdle NAV in the base currency of the relevant sub-fund.

Registrar and Transfer Agent fees

SS&C Administration Services (Luxembourg) S.A., was appointed by the Management Company as Registrar and Transfer Agent under a registrar and transfer agent agreement (the 'Registrar and Transfer Agent Agreement'). The Registrar Agent is responsible for processing the issue, redemption and transfer of shares as well as the keeping of the register of shareholders.

The Registrar and Transfer Agent will receive fees in respect of services provided and reasonable out of pocket expenses. Such fees will be payable monthly in arrears out of the assets of the Company.

Depositary and Custody fees

BNP Paribas, Luxembourg Branch has been appointed as Depositary for the Company in order to comply with the UCITS V Directive.

The Depositary is entitled to receive out of the assets of each sub-fund, fees in consideration for providing services to it, along with such out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements as are deemed reasonable and customary by the Directors.

BNP Paribas, Luxembourg Branch has been appointed by the Company under an agreement (the 'Custodian Agreement') to assure the safe custody of the Company's assets.

The Depositary is also entitled to receive out of the assets of each sub-fund, custody fees comprising asset-based fees and transaction-based fees that vary depending on the market in which a particular sub-fund invests; these fees will not exceed GBP 120 (EUR 180) per transaction.

Both the Depositary fee and Custodian fee are accrued daily and paid monthly in arrears.

Directors' fees

Those Directors who are not employees of Janus Henderson Group plc or its affiliates may each receive a remuneration, including an annual fee out of the assets of the Company, which shall be approved by the shareholders. Directors fees due and paid in the period were EUR 58,025 (30 September 2025: EUR 116,050).

Other expenses

The Company will also pay, as far as is allowable under applicable regulations, all other operating expenses which include, without limitation, taxes, expenses for legal and auditing services, printing shareholders' reports, prospectuses, all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Directors, registration fees and other expenses payable to supervisory authorities and local, regulatory and tax representatives appointed in various jurisdictions, insurance, interest costs, brokerage fees and costs. The Company will also pay fees or other charges levied in respect of the provision and use of benchmarks, dividend and redemption payment costs and the costs of publication of the NAV or other sub-fund information, including, but not limited to, that required to be published by any regulatory authority.

Collective Investment Schemes

Where a sub-fund may invest all or substantially all of its assets in CIS, there may be additional costs of investing in the underlying funds (underlying funds' TERs) which could increase the TER and/or the Ongoing Charges of the sub-fund. Accordingly, the sub-funds' TER and/or Ongoing Charge will include a synthetic element reflecting these underlying funds' TERs and all share classes of the sub-fund will incur such additional costs.

When investing into other CIS managed by a Janus Henderson Group plc company, there will be no double charging of management fees.

Annual expenses

The Management Company has undertaken to limit the annual expenses (other than the AMC, performance fee, dilution levy if applicable, the service fee in respect of share class X, the expenses related to the purchase and sale of investments and the cost of hedging) borne by each share class of the Company to a maximum of 0.50% of the average NAV per share of such share class. Any other expenses of the Company in excess of the maximum will be borne by the Investment Manager, and may be settled during the accounting period and/or will be settled following the accounting period end of the Company.

There were no expenses that exceeded the maximum of 0.50% for the period ended 31 March 2026.

Share class service fee

In relation to share class X, the Sub-Distributors appointed by the Principal Distributor shall be entitled to receive a service fee paid by the Company as compensation for services provided and expenses incurred by the Sub-Distributors in promoting the sale of share class X for the Company, including assistance to the investors in handling orders for subscriptions, redemptions and switches of shares, providing and interpreting current information about the Company, and other information or assistance as may be requested. The service fee which the Sub-Distributors are entitled to receive will be 0.50% per annum of the NAV per share of share class X.

In respect of share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, IF, P, SC and Z no service fee will be applicable.

No redemption charge will be applicable to subscribers in share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, IF, P, SC, X and Z.

Initial sales charge

The Principal Distributor is entitled to receive in respect of share classes A, F, H, SC and X of the Equity Funds and share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, IF, P, SC and X of the Alternate Solutions Funds, the initial sales charge paid by the investor, as specified for the share class. The initial sales charge shall be expressed as a percentage of the NAV per share and shall in no case exceed the maximum permitted by the laws and regulations of any country where the shares are authorised for public sale. The Principal Distributor may in conjunction with each Sub-Distributor agree the proportion of the initial sales charge to be retained by the Sub-Distributor. Further details can be found in the section 'Charges and Expenses' of the prospectus.

Formation costs

The total costs of establishing JREAL were USD 32,928. These costs were paid out of the proceeds of the initial issue of shares in the fund. These costs and expenses are being amortised on a straight line basis over a period of five years from the date on which the fund commenced operations. The Directors may, in their absolute discretion, shorten the period over which such fees and expenses are amortised. The amortised formation costs charged in the period were USD 253 (June 2025: nil).

7. Taxation

Under Luxembourg tax law, there are no Luxembourg income, withholding or capital gains taxes payable by the Company. The Company is, however, subject to the tax on Luxembourg undertakings for collective investment (Taxe d'abonnement).

Share classes A, F, H and X of the Company which are offered in the sub-funds will be subject to the Taxe d'abonnement at the rate of 0.05% per annum of the value of the total net assets of such share class on the last day of each calendar quarter, whereas share classes E, FP, G, I, IF, P, SC and Z of the Company in the sub-funds (reserved to Institutional Investors within the meaning of the 2010 Law) will be subject to the Taxe d'abonnement at the rate of 0.01% per annum of the value of the total net assets of such share class on the last day of each calendar quarter.

No stamp duty or other tax is payable in Luxembourg on the issue of shares.

Capital gains, dividends and interest on securities issued in other countries may be subject to withholding and capital gains taxes imposed by such countries.

India operates a taxation regime for the short-term and long-term capital gains. As a result of this, the Emerging Markets Fund recorded an accrual for Indian capital gains tax payable on Indian securities.

8. Share class details

Shares of each class in the Company have no par value, are freely transferable and, within each share class, are entitled to participate equally in the profits arising in respect of, and in the proceeds of a liquidation of, the sub-fund to which they are attributable. All shares are issued in registered form.

The number and type of classes of shares available in each sub-fund are detailed in the prospectus. The differences between share classes relate to the minimum investment, currency of denomination, distribution policy, the type of investor who is eligible to invest, the hedging strategy and the charging structure applicable to each of them.

Hedged share classes

The sub-funds may offer hedged share classes in order to mitigate the currency risk between the base currency of the sub-fund and the currency of the hedged share class. The other characteristics of the hedged share class (e.g. minimum investment, management fee etc.) remain the same as the base currency share class except their cost may be higher due to the cost of the currency hedging.

Where a hedged share class is available it will be expressed with the pre-fix 'H' immediately before the currency denomination and described for instance as class A2 HEUR, class A2 HGBP, class A2 HUSD, class A2 HAUD, class A2 HSEK, class A2 HCHF etc. The Company's Investment Manager will employ financial instruments, such as foreign exchange forward contracts, as a hedge.

An up-to-date list of the share classes available for the sub-funds is available at the registered office of the Company.

9. Net asset value

The NAV per share of each sub-fund will be expressed in the base currency of the sub-fund, calculated by the Administrator on each business day in Luxembourg at each valuation point and on other days as approved by the Board.

As at 31 March 2026

The NAV for each share class of each sub-fund is calculated by determining the value of the assets of the relevant sub-fund applicable to that share class, including accrued income, and deducting all liabilities (including all fees and charges) of that share class, and dividing the resultant sum by the total number of shares of that share class in the relevant sub-fund in issue or allotted at that time, (the resulting amount being rounded to the nearest two decimal places) to give the NAV per share class of the sub-fund. The NAV per share of each share class within each sub-fund may, at the discretion of the Directors, be rounded up or down to the nearest ten-thousandth of a AUD, CHF, EUR, GBP, NOK, NZD, SEK, SGD or USD in the case of each share class denominated in AUD, CHF, EUR, GBP, NOK, NZD, SEK, SGD or USD respectively and may be rounded up or down to the nearest hundredth of a JPY in the case of each share class denominated in JPY. Any other currency share class that becomes available will be rounded up or down using similar principles as the above mentioned currencies (at the discretion of the Directors).

Further details on rules that apply in valuing the total assets can be found in the current prospectus.

If the Company had calculated the NAV's solely with a view to publication, the market prices used to value investments would have been the closing prices on 31 March 2026. However, using these prices would not have caused the NAVs to significantly differ from those shown in the financial statements. The following sub-fund reported a difference in NAV of greater than 0.50% between closing prices as at 31 March 2026 and NAV valuation on that date.

| Sub-fund              | Currency | % difference(in % of NAV) |
|-----------------------|----------|-------------------------------|
| Emerging Markets Fund | USD      | 1.02%                         |

10. Equalisation

The Company will maintain equalisation accounts in relation to the shares with a view to ensuring that the levels of distribution payable to investors in the shares are not affected by the issue and redemption of, or the switch from or into, shares of those sub-funds during an accounting period. The price at which shares are bought by an investor will therefore be deemed to include an equalisation payment (which will be credited to the relevant equalisation account) calculated by reference to the accrued income of the share class, net of charges and expenses where applicable. The first distribution which an investor receives in respect of such shares following the purchase may include a repayment of capital.

11. Dividend distributions

No dividends were declared during the period as the share classes currently in issue only distribute/accumulate at the annual accounting date which is 30 September.

12. Cash, cash equivalents and bank overdrafts

Cash, cash equivalents and bank overdrafts as at 31 March 2026 comprised:

In return for making securities available for loan throughout the period, the sub-funds that have participated in the program received revenue which is reflected in the Financial Statements of each participating sub-fund under the 'Other income' caption. ### 18. Contingent assets, liabilities and commitments

There were no contingent assets, liabilities or outstanding commitments at the current period end.

19. Unfunded private placement commitments

The Company can invest in private placement investments where there can be unfunded future commitments at the period end date. These future commitments arise through the tranche structure of the investment process for such securities and are dependent on future events that have not occurred at the period end date. These typically relate to future financial or commercial targets set in the investment agreement with the investee entity and it is not practicable to assign any probability of achieving these in the financial statement disclosures. When the triggers are met, there is a binding commitment to fund the additional purchase, at which point an investment purchase transaction is recognised. Due to the nature of private placements, the free negotiability of these assets is restricted.

There were no unfunded private placement commitments at the current period end.

20. Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation

Please refer to the Appendix for information on the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR) and EU Taxonomy Regulation for the Article 6 & 8 sub-funds.

21. Subsequent events

There were no material subsequent events which require disclosure within these financial statements.

Aggregate transaction data

Eligible collateral types for stock lending and borrowing transactions are approved by the Investment Manager and may consist of (i) cash, (ii) securities issued or guaranteed by a Member State of the OECD or by their local authorities or supranational institutions and organisations with regional, EU and world-wide scope or by Hong Kong or Singapore, generally subject to a minimum long term credit rating of at least A- by one or more major rating agency or (iii) equities. Collateral should be highly liquid and traded on a regulated market. ### Risk policies

The Management Company employs a risk management process that identifies the risks to which the individual sub-funds and the Company taken as a whole, are or might be exposed and how such risks are assessed, monitored and managed, ensuring compliance with relevant regulation. This enables it to monitor and measure at any time the risk of the portfolio positions and their contribution to the overall risk profile of the relevant sub-fund, thereby ensuring that the global exposure of the underlying assets, including derivative instruments, shall not exceed the total net value of the relevant sub-fund. In accordance with the Law of 17 December 2010 and the applicable regulatory requirements of the CSSF, the Management Company reports to the CSSF on a regular basis on the risk management process on behalf of the Company.

Method

The global exposure of a sub-fund is calculated by using either the commitment approach or Value-at-Risk (VaR) approach by reference to its risk profile. The commitment approach means that financial derivative instruments are converted into the market value of the equivalent position in the underlying asset(s). VaR is a statistical concept and is commonly used as a standard measure of risk in the financial sector. The VaR approach is used, in general, for sub-funds using derivative instruments or techniques within their investment strategies to generate additional leverage or market risk exposure.

Sub-funds using the VaR approach

For such sub-funds, the maximum potential loss that a sub-fund could suffer in normal market conditions within a given time horizon and a certain degree of confidence is estimated. In these calculations all positions in the relevant portfolio are taken into consideration including those undertaken for efficient portfolio management purposes. For the purpose of calculating global exposure by VaR either a relative VaR approach or absolute VaR approach can be used; the selection of relative or absolute VaR methodology is determined by the availability of a reference portfolio appropriate for a sub-fund in meeting its investment objective.

VaR model

VaR has been calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation approach.

Parameters

The following parameters are applied as a minimum: a one-tailed 99% confidence level, a holding period equivalent to one month (20 business days), effective observation period (history) of risk factors of at least 1 year (250 business days) and daily calculation.

Limits

For sub-funds which have a suitable reference portfolio, the regulatory limit is that the VaR of the total portfolio's positions shall not be greater than twice the VaR of the portfolio's reference portfolio.

For those sub-funds which are unable or for which it is not appropriate to determine a reference portfolio (e.g. absolute return type funds) an absolute VaR is calculated on all of the portfolio's positions. Absolute monthly VaR on such sub-funds is not to exceed a regulatory maximum threshold of 20%.

VaR Results - for the period ended 31 March 2026

The VaR method, limits and utilisation of those limits for the period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026 are summarised in the table below:

Leverage

For those sub-funds measuring and monitoring global exposure using the VaR approach, the level of leverage arising from the use of derivative instruments is disclosed in the table below as a percentage of each sub-fund's total NAV. The calculation is based on the sum of notional exposures of financial derivative instruments in the investment portfolio including those held for risk reduction purposes.

Sub-funds using commitment approach

The global exposure for those sub-funds not specified in the table above has been determined according to the commitment approach during the reporting period from 1 October 2025 to 31 March 2026. For such sub-funds, each sub-fund's total commitment to derivatives is limited to 100% of the relevant sub-fund's total NAV, based on the sum of notional exposures of financial derivative instruments in the investment portfolio including those held for risk reduction purposes.
